

MAY ESTABLISH NEW
STEAMSHIP LINE

[By Latest Mail]
SAN FRANCISCO.—Another steamship line from the East coast to this port is a probability with the opening of the Panama canal, when the West Coast Line extends its activities to San Francisco. George L. Duval of New York and Theodosio F. Hodge of Valparaiso are now in San Francisco looking over the situation and may make reservations for dockage facilities.

The Wessel-Duval Company operates six steamers between New York and Boston and the West Coast of South America through the straits of Magellan. With the opening of the canal they will come through that waterway.

"We do not know about establishing a line from San Francisco down the West coast and beyond," said Duval at the St. Francis. "We are looking over the field and intend to make San Francisco a port of call for our vessels if business warrants."

GUARD OUTFITS ON HAWAII AND
MAUI IN SHAPE

Col. Coyne and Lieut. Bump Back from Inspection Tour of Maui and Hawaii

Col. Arthur Coyne, commanding the 1st Infantry, N. G. H., and Lieut. A. L. Bump, inspector-instructor, returned this morning on the Mauna Kea from Hawaii, after a three week's inspection tour of the Maui and Hawaii companies. From all angles the trip was a success, and both officers are enthusiastic over the showing made by the outside companies and the possibilities for building up the national guard of Hawaii on the outside islands.

"The companies at Lahaina, Wailuku and Hilo, which we inspected on successive Sundays, in the order named, are in good shape," said Colonel Coyne. "The right spirit is being shown, and it is very plain that militia enthusiasm isn't confined to Oahu. Between work, we had plenty of time to play, and the trip was one of the most enjoyable I have ever taken. We were royally entertained everywhere, and spent several very pleasant days with Col. Sam Johnson, formerly colonel of the 1st Infantry, at Pahoa."

Lieutenant Bump was equally enthusiastic. "The Lahaina company, to mention first the one we first inspected, is going to be one of the crack outfits of the regiment," he said. "Company I, Wailuku, also made a good showing. Over at Hilo, M company turned out 51 out of 61 men for inspection, and put up an unusually good drill. Captain Jack Easton certainly has a good outfit."

"Colonel Coyne and I have been visiting with Colonel and Mrs. Sam Johnson of Pahoa for a few days. We have had a most enjoyable time. The Johnsons are of a grade above princes of entertainers. Under their guidance we have seen Puna, Oahu, Kau and Kona as far as Kailua. "Through the courtesy of Mr. Filler, Colonel Coyne and myself made the railroad trip to Paauhau. That trip runs a close second to Kau. Incidentally, I am strong for Mr. Filler's proposed barracks in the volcano district."

"To sum up, I have knocked about over the world quite a bit in the last 24 years and never have I been so royally entertained nor have I ever seen so many interesting places and such wonderful scenery. I hope to some time be able to spend a month on Hawaii on horseback, wandering here and there at will. If the gods are kind, to me I shall do this."

Fort Shafter Society

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
FORT SHAFTER, March 27.—The fortnightly informal hop of the garrison took place on the 20th and was a jolly dance. An unusually large number of townspeople were in attendance. Following the hop were two suppers and the greater portion of the dancers went to one of the other of those entertainments. Major H. O. Williams had as his guests for supper a list comprising visitors from town and elsewhere only, while Mrs. Fred A. Cook's supper party was composed of garrison people. The party surrounding Major Williams' table was composed of Mrs. and Miss Whitney of Chicago, Miss Helen Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Pattison, Miss O'Brien, Miss McIntosh, Miss Elsie Smith, Messrs. Spalding, Robertson, Alexander and Lieut. Campanole.

Quite the handsomest affair given at Fort Shafter during the past few weeks was the afternoon bridge at Mrs. Walter H. Johnson's attractive quarters in the cantonment on Wednesday afternoon.

Six tables of players found plenty of excitement in the play for the handsome prizes of chintz boxes offered by the hostess and the winners at the conclusion were found to be Mrs. Clement H. Wright as first and Mrs. James E. Bell for second with Mrs. Tower for the consolation. The refreshments served at the

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Lee Leong, doing business as the Shanghai Drygoods Company, was discharged as a bankrupt in federal court this morning.

O. B. Lightfoot, assistant superintendent of the territorial marketing division, is carrying his right arm in a sling today, as the result of an encounter last night with a refractory automobile engine belonging to Col. C. J. McCarthy. In attempting to crank the machine, the engine backfired, and one bone of his wrist was broken by the crank.

Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings have been brought and the business and chattels attached of the American Dry Goods Company, conducted by Ah Chap, on behalf of the following creditors, who claim the amounts here given are due them: M. Phillips & Company, $237.82; H. Hackfeld & Company, $540.26, and Theo. H. Davies & Company, $212.54.

Once more, for the third or fourth time, the hearing of Mrs. Kate Welsh, otherwise known as Mrs. William L. Welsh, was continued in circuit court this morning. Mrs. Welsh, indicted on a charge of perjury, still has to plead to the accusation, but heretofore has been granted delay, giving her counsel, J. A. Magoon time to prepare a motion seeking to quash the indictment. This motion has not yet been presented. When the case was called this morning, City and County Attorney Cathcart was unable to be present in court, but at his request Judge Robinson set the hearing over to 9 o'clock next Monday morning.

Circuit Judge Robinson yesterday dismissed the complaint in the action to remove cloud from title, brought by Hugh and Daniel McCarrison against George Chones and Charles H. Merriam, registrar of conveyances. The dismissal was granted on motion of the plaintiffs, Chones having agreed to the cancellation of the lease held by him against the property in question, which was the lot immediately adjoining the Clarion clothing store on Fort Street, on the mauka side.

Close of the afternoon were a delightful ending to a charming entertainment for the following list of guests: Mrs. J. C. Kay, Mrs. C. C. Gee, Mrs. C. B. Parker, Mrs. Matheson, Mrs. E. V. Smith, Mrs. O. B. Rosenbaum, Mrs. G. H. Jamerson, Mrs. Tower, Mrs. C. H. Wright, Mrs. F. A. Cook, Mrs. J. E. Bell, Mrs. W. R. Gibson, Mrs. F. H. French, Mrs. Archie Harris, Mrs. W. T. Hannum, Mrs. J. R. Mount, Mrs. A. L. Bump, B. H. Watkins, Mrs. Frederick Barker, Mrs. M. J. Lenihan, Mrs. W. R. Scott and the Misses Lenihan.

Sunday a riding party with subsequent picnic set out for Tantalus and were rewarded with a splendid day of enjoyment on the high slopes.

Those composing the party were Major and Mrs. Lenihan, Lieut. and Mrs. L. O. Mathews, Captain and Mrs. Hannum, the Misses Helen Rees, O'Brien, Lenihan and Catherine Lenihan and Lieuts. Greene and Hardigg. In the service wagon of the engineer company that carried the luncheon for the riders, and the who accompanied the riders in the Hannum's runabout, were the Mathews' kiddies and it is safe to say that their enjoyment of the day was as keen as that of the elder members of the group.

On the evening of the 20th Mrs. George H. Jamerson entertained for about twenty in honor of Mrs. M. M. Macomb and Mrs. Herbert O'Brien with auction bridge as the scheme of diversion for the evening. Among those playing were Colonel and Mrs. French, Mrs. R. M. Cutts and Colonel W. C. Rafferty.

Mrs. Herbert O'Brien and Miss O'Brien, who have been the guests of Colonel and Mrs. French for the past several weeks, left for their home in Detroit by the Wilhelmina on Wednesday. Another passenger homeward bound by the same steamer was Miss Helen Rees, daughter of Colonel Rees of San Francisco, who has been visiting Mrs. W. T. Hannum in the engineer garrison for a brief time since the departure of Colonel and Mrs. Rees for their home.

Mrs. Irving Phillipson of the Schofield Barracks garrison and who has been a patient in the department hospital during an operation has convalesced sufficiently to allow of her return to her home and made the journey on Wednesday last without any untoward results.

Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln of Shafter post has so far progressed towards ultimate recovery from her operation at the same hospital as to be allowed to receive a few intimate friends as visitors and will, it is now believed, be able to be taken to her own quarters in about a week.

Her favorable convalescence is a matter of much satisfaction to her friends and it is hoped that she will soon be able to resume her well defined place in social affairs in the garrison.

Mrs. Frederick A. Barker of the 2nd Infantry is looking forward to an early visit of some length from Mrs. Mitchell from Schofield Barracks. Mrs. Mitchell is the wife of Lieutenant Mitchell of the 1st Infantry and now expects to arrive at Fort Shafter early next week.

Dr. Reesman of the dental surgeon's corps and stationed at the department hospital was operated on for appendicitis on Thursday at that hospital, and while it is early to prognosticate as to ultimate results, it is known that no complications were encountered and that the patient withstood the shock of the operation most successfully.

The game of auction with the new "Nulles" count has invaded Shafter to some extent though not yet of general play. Mrs. M. J. Lenihan with Major and Mrs. E. V. Smith and Captain Charles S. Lincoln made up a table for experiment in the new game on

An Absolute Certainty

It goes without saying that so long as man lives there are bound to arise opportunities for profitable exchanges. The exigency being—to be awake to these daily offerings of fortune—at the proper time.

This is applicable to one and all at some time or another. Consequently, how can you know but that this is the very time when someone is looking for just what you have while you are wondering which would be the better means of disposing of it.

Whether it be Real Estate, vacant or improved, an automobile, bicycle, furniture, household commodities and what-not. Don't let it go on deteriorating and causing you worry. Thursday evening. The result of the two hours' play showed Mrs. Lenihan and Captain Lincoln as far in the lead of total points scored.

Practically every officer in the combined Shafter garrison attended the reception given by the University Club on Tuesday night in honor of General Macomb. The group of officers was headed by the post commander, Colonel French, and included all officers not on duty that evening.

Engagement Not a Surprise. The announcement of the engagement of Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the president, to William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, did not come as a surprise to the many friends of Mr. McAdoo, according to dispatches from the East. He has been much in the company of Miss Eleanor Wilson. Society has observed them dancing together frequently. Lately some of Mr. McAdoo's closest friends have dubbed him "Dancing Mac."

Mr. McAdoo is 50 years old while

Miss Wilson is 24. He is a widower and has six children, one son and one daughter being married. Recently a son was born to his eldest daughter in Arizona, making him a grandfather.

Since Mr. Wilson has been in the White House Secretary McAdoo, so it is said, has been seen slipping through the iron gates in the east entrance of the White House. The president was usually out golfing. Miss Wilson on many occasions was the only gallery to the tennis matches between Secretary McAdoo and Assistant Secretary Hamlin on the White House tennis courts.

Also some of the visitors to the president's summer cottage in New Hampshire assert they saw Mr. McAdoo in the vicinity last summer.

Mr. McAdoo was born near Marietta, Ga., Oct. 31, 1863. While a young man he moved to Tennessee, where he studied law. He was admitted to the bar and practised in that state until 1892, when he removed to New York and practised law until 1912. Soon after he went to New York he took up the proposition to tunnel underneath the Hudson river. Miss Wilson is a daring athlete, a man, a tennis player of exceptional ability, and in fact enjoys all outdoor sports. She devotes considerable time to charitable and social work.
